BACKGROUND

As a dedicated equestrian, trainer, and instructor I love learning and teaching using natural horsemanship techniques. As a teenager I found my love for horses at a farm in Middleton and Boxford learning how to team rope. After that I enjoyed a lot of trail riding and working for lessons before finally buying my own and shifting over to training and teaching. I started to apprentice at Dream Spirit Farm and Plum Grove Equestrian Center then Spring tide farm until we moved to New Hampshire and opened our own called Follow Your Dreams Farm. Aside from Gymkhana and roping we love teaching ranch riding, hunter/jumper, dressage, pleasure, trail, penning, and sorting.

COACHING

Insured, CPR, first aid, and MA licensed

Our best and most satisfying achievements have been watching our clients succeed and reach their goals. In our program we have produced great results using a steady, consistent, and progressive approach. With positive reinforcement techniques we create a better partnership among horse and rider built on trust and predictable behavioral conditioning. By learning how to set yourself and horse up for success and have fun while doing it; winning, naturally follows suit. Now get off your butt and get in a saddle, daylight's wasting.

TRAINING EXPERIENCE

- Rescue and Rehabilitation

In New Hampshire we helped multiple kill pen or unwanted horses and ponies become some of our best lesson and competition horses; showing our team how to develop trust and patience with a once abused or mistreated animal. This develops a great sense of accomplishment between horse and riders and enables them to see the progress from start to finish. Although this slow and steady process takes time and patience the rewards for most have been immensely satisfying.
